WRITING

Answer one of the questions and write 75–100 words.

2 What is your favorite movie and why?

Being a huge movie fan, I am physically and emotionally unable to choose one particular movie as my favorite. But talking about the recent movie I came across due to my sister's constant babbling of how nonchalant and extraordinary this classic romantic movie is I couldn't help but agree with her. This is the American movie called Before made in 1995. Ethan Hawke plays a American boy named Jesse who was returning from Madrid to Vienna and Julie Delpy plays a French girl named Céline who was returning to her university in Paris after visiting her grandmother. The beautiful view of Europe and young Ethan Hawke was a treat to the eyes. The whole movie is basically a conversation between Jesse and Céline while walking around a beautiful road in Vienna.

The movie starts with Jesse and Céline in a Eurail. After having a few minutes of magnificent conversation, they eventually get off the rail in Jesse's destination in Vienna though Céline had a different destination. Jesse had only a night in Vienna before he took a flight to his home in America from Vienna. They walk around trying to reach all the landmarks as much as they could in Vienna. The movie covered the beautiful architects of Vienna and the moist road after a rain was a perfect complement to the scenario. They were these perfect strangers who knew everything. They had a perfect conversation without the hint of fear of judgement. The movie is very unpredictable and has a unique ending which is the major reason for being my favorite romantic movie of all time. It has two more sequels with another two beautiful stories.
